

Welcome to the rules pack for the Bolt action V3 launch Party event. This pack covers the event rules and all other information that you will need to ensure that you have a great time.

With the introduction of Bolt Action Version 3 we understand that games are going to take a little longer to get used to. With this in mind we will be running three games at 3 hours each with two 30 mins breaks between rounds. Let's learn some new Bolt action and have some fun !

Ticket Details

Tickets can be purchased via the just play website here:

Painting and Modelling

There is no minimum required painting standard for models to be used at this event but the models must be fully assembled. Unpainted models will not qualify to enter painting awards.

Where possible we aim to use Bolt Action/Warlord Games Official miniatures, some proxy models can be used if you do not have the models to complete your army but must at least resemble the unit you are trying to mimic (Example: An Infantry squad cannot proxy as a tank) If you are unsure as to whether your models meet the above criteria, then please contact us in advance at Thediceghost@gmail.com and we will be happy to help.

Conduct

We expect all players to demonstrate sporting conduct throughout the event. Bolt Action version 3 rules are new so this means in terms of games, knowing and abiding by the rules of the game, ensuring both players are aware of the state of the game and ensuring your opponent maintains the same standards. Stalling, rolling dice unfairly, consistently misplaying or misrepresenting rules and other forms of unsporting conduct will be acted upon by the TO.

This extends to good personal conduct. Players should act appropriately and do nothing to make any other person feel less than perfectly safe and welcome.

Any player who feels unsporting conduct is taking place should speak to the TO. If you feel the issue may affect the outcome of a game in progress, you must alert the TO during the game.

Always report cases to the TO. It may not have affected you negatively but they may repeat this behaviour if unchallenged.

Unsporting conduct may result in deduction of tournament points, and serious or repeated offences may result in automatic game losses or disqualification.

End of Round Procedures

The round timer will be on display along with regular timing updates from the TO. When time on the round is called, you will have five minutes to submit your result to the TO. If you have not finished the game and there is not a clear or mutually agreed winner please call a TO who will assist you in making a decision, and make a decision themselves if necessary.

A game of Bolt Action is intended to be 6-7 turns and all TO involvement in decision making will assume 6-7 turns would be played if our involvement is needed.

Tournament Organiser Responsibilities

This event will be officiated by The Dice Ghost Tournament organisers (TOs) for the day. It is the tournament organiser's job to ensure that everything runs smoothly and that all players have a great event experience. The tournament organiser's word is always final in all matters whether they relate to rules, conduct, or otherwise. If you have any problems, questions, or there is anything that you feel that you need help with or not sure about, please speak to your tournament organiser – We are here to help!

Judging

The TO's will be actively judging the event so please feel free to call us for any help you may need in your games from re-setting up terrain to complex rules questions.
